BUSINESS OVERVIEW

- Alphabet (NASDAQ: GOOGL) is the holding company for Google plus 'Other Bets' moonshots, valued at ~$2.1T (2026-06-03 close).
- Q1 2026 revenue was $109.9B (+22% YoY), an 11th straight quarter of double-digit growth.
- Google Services: $89.6B (+16%), Search & other $60.4B (+19%), YouTube ads $9.88B, subscriptions/platforms/devices $12.4B.
- Google Cloud: $20.0B (+63%), with enterprise AI solutions the primary Cloud growth driver for the first time.
- Operating margin expanded to 36.1%; net income $62.6B (+81%); Cloud backlog/RPO topped $460B.
- Full-stack AI thesis: Gemini frontier models + custom TPU silicon + global data centers + distribution across Search/Android/Workspace/Cloud.
- TPU is becoming a sellable Nvidia alternative: Anthropic up to ~$40B/5GW, Meta in talks, a Blackstone neocloud JV.
- 2026 capex guided to $180-190B; twin antitrust overhangs (DOJ Search appeal + adtech remedy) persist.

EXECUTIVE LEADERSHIP

CEO, ALPHABET AND GOOGLE SINCE DEC 2019 (ALPHABET); OCT 2015 (GOOGLE)

Sundar Pichai

Joined Google in 2004; led Chrome and Android before becoming Google CEO (2015) and Alphabet CEO (2019). Architect of the full-stack AI strategy.

CFO & SVP, ALPHABET AND GOOGLE SINCE 2024

Anat Ashkenazi

Joined Alphabet as CFO in 2024 from Eli Lilly (CFO). Oversees the record AI capex program ($180–190B guided for 2026).

PRESIDENT & CHIEF INVESTMENT OFFICER SINCE 2023 (PRESIDENT & CIO); CFO 2015–2024

Ruth Porat

Former Morgan Stanley CFO; Alphabet CFO 2015–2024 before transitioning to President & CIO.

PRODUCT & REVENUE MODEL

- Advertising is the cash core (Search $60.4B +19%, YouTube ads $9.88B, Network), sold on auction/CPC/CPM economics.
- Google Cloud ($20.0B, +63%) monetizes consumption GCP infrastructure/platform plus Workspace SaaS, increasingly driven by enterprise AI infra (TPU/GPU compute) and AI solutions (Gemini Enterprise, Vertex AI). Subscriptions/platforms/devices ($12.4B) covers YouTube Premium/TV, Google One, Play take-rate, and Pixel.
- Gemini is monetized directly via API (>16B tokens/minute, +60% QoQ) and embedded across consumer and enterprise surfaces; serving unit costs fell ~78% over 2025.

- AI / Product: AI was the dominant narrative. Management framed the 'full-stack' approach, Gemini models, custom TPU silicon, global infrastructure, distribution, as lighting up every part of the business.
- Demand: Demand was broad-based. Cloud accelerated to 63% on enterprise AI infrastructure and solutions, with a >$460B backlog of multi-year committed contracts.

KEY RISKS & DEBATES

- ! AI-native query disruption: generative answers could erode long-term Search ad clicks even as near-term query volume rises.
- ! Capital intensity: $180-190B 2026 capex more than doubles 2025 and pressures near-term FCF if AI revenue lags.
- ! Antitrust: DOJ/35-state Search appeal seeks tougher remedies; the separate adtech case still threatens an ad-exchange divestiture.
- ! TPU supply is a two-edged sword: selling record external capacity (Anthropic, Meta) leaves DeepMind queuing for its own compute.
- ! Cloud is #3 and must keep closing the gap on AWS/Azure to justify the re-rating.
- ! Other Bets remain a ~$2.1B/quarter operating loss with Waymo still pre-scale.
- ! Valuation: after crossing $4T, the stock prices in continued AI and Cloud execution.
